By Angela Murphy

On the verge of homelessness, a divorced mother of two children with special needs finds love ... with a ghost.

Lauren is recovering from an abusive marriage that's left her deep in debt.

Her ex-husband never accepted the children for who they are.

Lauren's daughter Ashley has Asperger's Syndrome. Her son Colin is autistic, and blind. They both have an uncanny connection with the non-physical world.

With dearly-departed Eric they find the love and support they never knew.

Lauren's slimy ex-husband Dick, attempts to make her life difficult. While Eric's estranged brother Scottie tries to take the family home. But quirky Aunt Peggy, the Captain, and close friends Greg and Sarah help Lauren on her journey as she secretly navigates her mixed-life romance.

Eric encourages Lauren to realize her career ambitions, even though it eventually leads her away from their supernatural relationship.
